Taiwan Textile Company Profile for Central and Eastern Europe

May 15 – 19, 2017

Textile Export Promotion Project (TEPP)

The Taiwan Textile Federation (TTF) was established on November 25, 1975 with government guidance and support as well as with donations from the textile industry itself.

From its inception, the principal task of the TTF has been to assist the government in bilateral textile quota negotiations and to administer the textile export quota. Over the past 40 years, there have, however, been changes and modifications in the operations of the TTF. These have been made to assist the industry in coping with the challenges presented by the ever-changing economic and trade environment.

In recent years, TTF has aimed to provide a versatile range of services, including market promotion, industrial development, market information, and help with the improvement of design capability, production, and management, to Taiwan textile companies to ensure their continuing development, up-grading, and future prosperity.

Taiwan's textile industry is renowned for its integral supply chain. As one of the leaders in chemical fiber, Taiwan has developed various functional and eco-friendly textiles to the global market, thereby being recognized as a "sourcing hub" by major buyers around the world. In order to assist the textile industry to cope with the competition of globalization, Taiwan Textile Federation, as commissioned by the Bureau of Foreign Trade, Ministry of Economic Affairs, implements the "Textile Export Promotion Project" (TEPP) by selecting premium textile exporters and to promote their exports by measures under this project.
